Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA)

Do you want to understand the Catholic Church better?

Do you wonder what your Catholic spouse believes and why?

Have you ever thought about entering the Catholic Church?

Have you been baptized but have not received the Sacraments of Eucharist or Confirmation?

If you answered yes to any of these, we hope you will consider joining Holy Trinity's Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA).

Our RCIA program offers the opportunity to learn about the Church's beliefs, Biblical foundations, and beauty...as well as her 2000-year-old history, traditions, and practices.

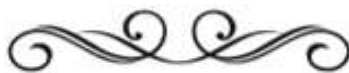

Our classes focus on the teaching of the Church, their foundation in Scripture and Tradition, the truth and beauty of the Church, and the experience of being Catholic. They will prepare you to enter the Church and to celebrate the Sacraments of Baptism, First Communion, and Confirmation.

Please join our RCIA process to ask your questions, get answers, and share your own insights and faith story.

RCIA Inquiry classes typically begin in August.

Catholic FYI

Have you ever wondered why our celebration of the Eucharist bears such a unique name, “the Mass”? The Catechism of the Catholic Church reminds us “Mass... concludes with the sending forth (missio) of the faithful.” At the end of “Mass,” we are told to go forth glorifying God, doing His will.

The catechism alludes to the Latin dismissal, “Ite missa est.” “Ite” means go forth. “Missa” is from the Latin word “mittere,” a verb that changes in various contexts, for example when it gave rise to our English word “mission.” “Missio” means sending. Does Mass mean the same? Does it mean our “co-mission-ing”?

It is true we are commissioned at Mass. We could here call to mind the “new evangelization” as preached by St. John Paul II. We might think of Pope Francis’s call to be not only disciples but “missionary” disciples. Yet, there is a meaning that goes much deeper for the term “Mass.”

We understand the Eucharist to be a true sacrifice of praise, “a holy and living sacrifice” (Eucharistic Prayer III). But the verb form of “missa est” did not match “sacrificium” (i.e. sacrifice). “Missa est” must have been associated historically with another word.

St. Thomas Aquinas, in his great work, the “Summa Theologica,” remarked, as in passing, “from this [previous consideration] the Mass derives its name.” Christ is the victim sent [missa] to us” (Summa, III, 84, 4, ad9). The word here was “hostia.” The answer seemed clearly to be solved by the phrase “hostia missa est” (literally, “the victim has been sent”).

In the 12th century the name “Mass” was already in use, and it referred theologically to Jesus as the “victim” of the sacrifice. Our Eucharistic prayers still refer to Jesus, hidden under the appearances of bread and wine, as a “sacrificial Victim.” Yes, Christ is the Victim who died for our salvation. But first, as St. Thomas reminds us, “Christ is the victim sent to us” in the Incarnation.

...Eucharistic Prayer IV alludes to this, although it does not use the word “victim.” Eucharistic Prayer IV recalls the sacrifice of Abraham, saying “Look, O Lord [Heavenly Father], upon the sacrifice which you yourself have provided for your Church.” The biblical allusion is clear. The first time that “God provided” the victim for a sacrifice was on Mount Moriah (See Genesis 22:1-14). Abraham, thinking he must sacrifice his son Isaac, yet wishing to hide the fact from his son, said cryptically and prophetically, “God Himself will provide the lamb for the sacrifice.”

Catholic FYI con’t

In the subsequent episode for Abraham, God provided a ram to be the victim in place of Isaac. In the rest of the Bible, we know God Himself provided the victim, when Christ came as “the Lamb of God who takes away the sins of the world.” Abraham’s words were a promise of the Incarnation. Jesus is the Lamb of God for us. He is the victim in the perfect sacrifice, by voluntarily going to His own death, brining about our salvation. “Hostia Missa Est!”

Christ now offers Himself for us each day in the miracle of transubstantiation of “the Mass.” On the altar He is a living victim, never dying again! In the Eucharist, Christ takes all our repentance, our adoration, our thanks and our petitions, bringing them to the Father in heaven. Then He fills us with “every grace and heavenly blessing” when we receive him worthily (Eucharistic Prayer I). Then He commissions us with His graces and with the gifts of the Holy Spirit to be “the salt of the Earth” and “the light of the world.”

At the end of each Mass we might say “our living Victim, sent for us, has sent our offering to the Father; go now! You all are sent.

Holy Trinity Adult Catholic Studies Presents

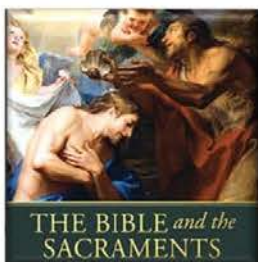

Fearless in Faith: With many frightening things facing us today, including attacks on churches and people of faith, we need help overcoming our fear. Popular Catholic speaker Chris Stefanick rightly says that if we build up and practice the gift of fortitude the way we build up and use muscle, it will help us overcome our fears. In his recent series, Fearless, Stefanick interviews four role-models who share their valuable perspectives about being fearless.

Loving in Truth: Just as we must be Fearless in Faith, we must be Loving in Truth. In this two-part series, we will provide the crucial information we need to understand and compassionately explain our Church's beautifully-cohesive teaching on the enduring dignity of every human life and the divine design of human sexuality.

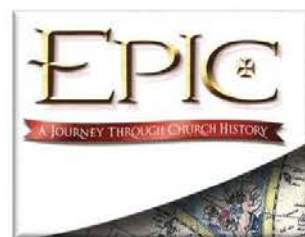

Jewish Roots of Christmas: In this year's Advent series, we will explore the true meaning of Christmas and the reasons it is so beloved, even among non-believers. In his two-part video Bible study, Dr. Pitre goes to the Old Testament and to ancient tradition to shed light on the little-known Jewish roots of this most joyful of celebrations, the Nativity.

The Faith of the Church: The Augustine Institute has updated its wonderful video series, Symbolon: The Catholic Faith Explained! This year we will present the first four of the 16 new episodes which beautifully explain the Nicene Creed. Join us for Seeking the Face of God; I Believe in God, the Father Almighty; Creator of Heaven and Earth; and I Believe in Jesus Christ.

The Bible and the Sacraments ...and Divine Mercy: For our Lenten series, Matthew Leonard explores the deeper meaning and mystery of the sacraments – the “powers that come forth” from the body of Christ. After discussing the origins of the sacraments so richly revealed in the Old and New Testaments, Leonard provides two additional classes on Reconciliation and Anointing of the Sick. Then, in anticipation of Divine Mercy Sunday, we will discuss the devotions and the special indulgence which Jesus, our Divine Mercy, gave us through Saint Faustina.

EPIC: A Journey Through Church History: As we learned in previous EPIC classes, Church history is not just the recitation of popes, saints, and dates. It is an amazing story of adventure, intrigue, rebellion, reform, sacrifice, and service. Join our video series as Steve Weidenkopf discusses a troubling time when weak Church leaders and schismatics were countered by exemplary souls, future saints who defended the Church, even when it cost them their lives.
