Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA)

Do you want to understand the Catholic Church better?

Do you wonder what your Catholic spouse believes and why?

Have you ever thought about entering the Catholic Church?

Have you been baptized but have not received the Sacraments of Eucharist or Confirmation?

If you answered yes to any of these, we hope you will consider joining Holy Trinity's Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA).

Our RCIA program offers the opportunity to learn about the Church's beliefs, Biblical foundations, and beauty...as well as her 2000-year-old history, traditions, and practices.

Our classes focus on the teaching of the Church, their foundation in Scripture and Tradition, the truth and beauty of the Church, and the experience of being Catholic. They will prepare you to enter the Church and to celebrate the Sacraments of Baptism, First Communion, and Confirmation.

Please join our RCIA process to ask your questions, get answers, and share your own insights and faith story.

RCIA Inquiry classes typically begin in August.

Mary McLean, the former business office manager at Holy Trinity, painted the beautiful colors on our statues of the Blessed Mother and the Sacred Heart of Jesus. Didn't she do just an incredible job? If you would like to send a thank you card, please bring your card to Mass the weekend of July 27-28. Susan Pavlica has volunteered to deliver the cards to Mary. Please place cards in the baskets at either entrance.

Catholic FYI

We don't hear much about Catholic participation in the American War of Independence.

The truth is, Catholicism had suffered through a rough history in the British colonies up to that point. Various anti-Catholic laws had shut Catholics out of public life in many of the colonies and in some cases, barred the presence of Catholics and/or their clergy altogether.

Even the state of Maryland, named for Henrietta Maria, the Catholic Queen Consort of Charles I, was supposed to be a haven for Catholics—but anti-Catholic legislation found its way there, too. The New World wasn't the promised land of religious freedom if you were a Catholic.

In fact, all the signers of the Declaration of Independence were non-Catholics—with one exception.

Meet Charles Carroll, the one and only Catholic signer of the Declaration of Independence and one of Maryland's most famous sons. Wealthy and well-educated, he was technically not allowed to hold office in Maryland due to his religion.

In spite of that, he was appointed to many positions and duties within the colonial government of Maryland, became one of the colony's foremost promoters of independence, and represented Maryland at the Continental Congress. He put his name to the Declaration and gave a significant amount of his own fortune to financing the Americans in their war against England.

Charles Carroll's story shows the giant cracks that were appearing in the anti-Catholicism of the American colonies—and these cracks would continue to grow.

George Washington was in favor of liberty for Catholics, and anti-Catholic legislation would gradually fall away as the new country took shape. Catholics would continue to fight against prejudice for the following centuries, for Catholicism was here and it wasn't going away.

Alexis de Tocqueville, in his 19th-century observation of the American way of life Democracy in America, discussed the natural compatibility of Catholicism with the American mindset: "...they [Catholics] constitute the most republican and the most democratic class of citizens which exists in the United States."

But we shouldn't be surprised. After all, though he was the lone Catholic signatory of the Declaration, Mr. Carroll was hardly alone. Charles Carroll's signature was simply a continuation of the amazing story of Catholicism in America.

There is much more to learn about Charles Carroll. His cousin, John, was the first Catholic bishop in America. One good resource is a book by Samuel Gregg, 'Tea Party Catholic'.

Natural Family Planning Awareness Week

The dates of Natural Family Planning Awareness Week highlight the anniversary of the papal encyclical Humanae Vitae (July 25) which articulates Catholic beliefs about human sexuality, conjugal love, and responsible parenthood. The dates also mark the feast of Saints Joachim and Anne (July 26), the parents of the Blessed Mother. Pope Francis has designated that feast as World Grandparents Day, a fitting commemoration during National NFP Awareness Week! For further information, contact nfp@uscceb.org.
